

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

A method of data control for a system server and a sub-network including a plurality of user terminals, the method comprising the steps of providing the system server with updated software versions, selecting one of the user terminals, requesting from the system server a list of the updated software versions that are absent in the selected user terminal, determining whether the unselected user terminals include any of the absent updated software versions, receiving the absent updated software versions to have been included in the unselected user terminals, receiving the absent updated software versions to have not been included in the unselected user terminals, and upgrading the selected user terminal with the received absent updated software versions.

FINNEGAN
HENDERSON FARABOW
GARRETT &
DUNNER LLP

1300 I Street, NW
Washington, DC 20005
202.408.4000
Fax 202.408.4400
www.finnegan.com